Hegseth's "Autonomous Warfare Command" Is An Epstein-Class Rip-Off

Stop the NDAA US-Israel Military Merger

October 6, 2026—On September 30, American Secretary of War Pete Hegseth held another large military meeting at Quantico, VA. Wearing his usual too-tight suit, he ranted that the new and improved military corps has "no fatties, no trannies, no beardos, no weirdos," and a heightened lethality "with testosterone on top." Following the caveman-like theatrics, Hegseth got to the meat of the matter and announced a newly created Autonomous Warfare Command.

He said, "Ukraine's lesson is not that one type of drone wins wars, but rather the need for a purpose-built system that maximizes the ability to adapt," he told the audience. "We will fuse procurement with operations at scale, and then allow warfighters and engineers and entrepreneurs to learn, adapt, and rapidly iterate on their domain and their mission."

The command will be operational as of October 1, 2027.

There are many hazards involved in "Autonomous Warfare" which should be of great concern to the American people. For example, this Spring, in the context of the war on Iran, U.S. forces nearly boarded a Chinese cargo ship after an analyst used an AI chatbot that wrongly determined the ship was carrying nuclear weapon components. Thankfully, before launching an assault and hostile boarding of the ship, wiser heads reviewed the intelligence and found that it was faulty.

Taking human beings out of decision-making roles could lead to nuclear war. Obviously, that is the first major problem with this program, and the main reason why, as President of the United States, I will end it.

However, this program is not primarily about war fighting; rather, it is a tool for billionaire members of the Epstein class to continue lining their pockets, over the dead bodies of millions of people in Southwest Asia, Ukraine, Africa – and even the United States, whose soldiers will also pay the ultimate price for this sickness.

Secretary of War Pete Hegseth's Autonomous Warfare Command would allow members of the Epstein class to continue lining their pockets, over the dead bodies of millions of people .

Hegseth led a round of applause during his speech for that "patriotic billionaire" Steven Feinberg, and his role in this nefarious endeavor. Formerly (and still partially) CEO of Cerberus Capital Management hedge fund, Feinberg is now Deputy Secretary of Defense.

According to the Project on Government Oversight (POGO), "Hundreds of documents in the newly released Epstein files shed light on connections between the sex offender and Cerberus Capital Management, a private equity firm formerly led by Department of Defense Deputy Secretary Steve Feinberg." POGO reports that Feinberg's name appears in at least 20 Epstein documents, and Cerberus is mentioned no less than 360 times. Feinberg's relationship with Jeffrey Epstein is merely a casual one when compared to the intimate friendship and business dealings Epstein had with Commerce Secretary Howard Lutnick—quite literally Feinberg's "partner in crime"—who was allowed to lie his way through a congressional hearing on the Epstein matter.

When Hegseth says "fuse procurement with operations," he means skirting normal federal oversight and going directly through Feinberg's Office of Strategic Capital (OSC) in the Pentagon, which is run by other former Cerberus executives. The OSC is effectively a slush fund looking for military companies in which to acquire stock equity, a form of defense contract "procurement" which is not permitted by Department of Defense regulations.

A.I. Bubble To Burst?

Part of the reason for "fusing" military procurement and operations though the OSC slush fund is that another Epstein client, Peter Theil, may be facing tough times ahead as fears grow that the AI bubble may soon burst. The irrational exuberance about how much major corporations would spend on AI, to replace their human employees, has hit a snag: Companies are discovering that switching to AI sometimes costs more than employing people, as reported recently by Forbes magazine.

Now, put this policy together with Section 219 in the House version of the National Defense Authorization Act (Senate Section 1217), which calls for a merger of Israeli and American military technology, and you get a very disturbing picture, indeed.

Secretary of War Pete Hegseth and his bosses, Stephen Feinberg and Howard Lutnick, are jeopardizing the security and well-being of the American people and putting the entire planet at risk of thermonuclear war. When Congressman Thomas Massie introduced articles of impeachment against Hegseth, House Speaker Mike Johnson sent the Congress home to their districts in order not to vote on this important matter.

I launched my campaign for the presidency of the United States because I know that "We the People" do not believe our Constitutional republic should be turned over to a bunch of perverse, sadistic Epstein-affiliated billionaires.

Rather, we must chart a new course, much more in keeping with the tradition of our founders who intended to defeat the evil legacy of the British Empire. Decades ago, then-presidential candidate Lyndon LaRouche called for a Four Powers Agreement among the United States, Russia, China, and India, as the necessary prerequisite to a total reorganization of the bankrupt transatlantic financial system. We should not be trying to bail out a hyperinflated bubble of derivatives obligations by sucking the life-blood out of the real economy and the human race.

Previous American leaders from Alexander Hamilton to Abraham Lincoln and Franklin Delano Roosevelt successfully implemented American System economic methods to prevent large debt burdens from stifling the growth of the physical economy upon which we all depend. Reinstatement of the Glass–Steagall Act and the replacement of the Federal Reserve with a National Bank would be the first step. Partnering with China's Belt and Road Initiative would ensure a speedy railroad to recovery.

Has it occurred to you that the Epstein class of murderous billionaires is deploying our nation into war against exactly the large nuclear superpowers who must be our partners in finally liberating mankind from the genocidal colonial era?
